PRESIDENT PERSONALLY APPEALS TO CONGRESS

TO REPEAL PANAMA TOLLS EXEMPTION

To Sustain National Honor of the United States

AND FOREIGN POLICY

Otherwise, "I Shall Not Know How to Deal With Other Matters of Even Greater Delicacy and Nearer Consequence."

Washington, March 5.—President Wilson personally appealed to Congress, assembled in joint session today, to sustain the National honor of the United States in upholding treaty obligations by repealing the Panama tolls exemption against which Great Britain protests. He asked Congress to do that "in support of the foreign policy of the administration," and added that an exemption for American ships not only was "a mistaken economic policy" but was in contravention of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

"I shall not know how to deal with other matters of even greater delicacy and nearer consequence if you do not grant it to me in ungrudging measure," said the President.

"The large thing to do is the only thing we can afford to do; a voluntary withdrawal from a position everywhere questioned and misunderstood. We ought to reverse our action without raising the question whether we are right or wrong, and so once more deserve our reputation for generosity and the redemption of every obligation without quibble or hesitation."

President Wilson's address, the shortest he has yet delivered to Congress—exactly 420 words— was as follows:

Text of the Address.

"Gentlemen of the Congress:

"I have come to you upon an errand which can be very briefly performed, but I beg that you will not measure its importance by the number of sentences in which I state it. No communication I have addressed to the Congress carried with it graver or more far-reaching implications to the interest of the country, and I come now to speak upon a matter with regard to which I am charged in a peculiar degree, by the Constitution itself, with personal responsibility.

"I have come to ask for the repeal of that provision of the Panama Canal Act of August 24, 1912, which exempts vessels engaged in the coastwise trade of the United States from payment of tolls, and to urge upon you the justice, the wisdom, and the large policy of such a repeal with the utmost earnestness of which I am capable.

"In my own judgment, very fully considered and maturely formed, that exemption constitutes a mistaken economic policy from every point of view, and is, moreover, in plain contravention of the treaty with Great Britain concerning the canal concluded on November 18, 1901. But I have not come to you to urge my personal views. I have come to state to you a fact and a situation. Whatever may be our own differences of opinion concerning this much debated measure, its meaning is not debated outside the United States. Everywhere else the language of the treaty is given but one interpretation, and that interpretation precludes the exemption I am asking you to repeal. We consented to the treaty; its language we accepted, if we did not originate it; and we are too big, too powerful, too self-respecting a nation to interpret with too strained or refined a reading the words of our own promises just because we have power enough to give us leave to read them as we please. The large thing to do is the only thing we can afford to do, a voluntary withdrawal from a position everywhere questioned and misunderstood. We ought to reverse our action without raising the question whether we were right or wrong, and so once more deserve our reputation for generosity and the redemption of every obligation without quibble or hesitation.

"I ask this of you in support of the foreign policy of the administration. I shall not know how to deal with other matters of even greater delicacy and nearer consequence if you do not grant it to me in ungrudging measure."

Live Question for Two Years.

The Panama tolls question has been a subject of dispute for nearly two years. Diplomatic correspondence between Great Britain and the United States found the question unsettled when President Taft left office. Except for an assurance to James Bryce, then British ambassador, when he left the United States a year ago, that the question would be taken up in the regular session of Congress, President Wilson has never directed any official communication to England on the tolls question. The President recently told callers he had never discussed the matter formally or informally with the British ambassador here, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, because he believed the obligation on the part of the United States to repeal the exemption clause was one which this government, itself, should realize without outside influence or pressure.

Administration leaders in both House and Senate had assured the President that, with the delivery of a message by him showing that international circumstances had arisen since the measure was last debated, the President's suggestion for repeal would be met with prompt action.

WILSON'S REQUEST WILL BE GRANTED

Of This There Seemed Little Doubt Last Night

VIGOROUS OPPOSITION

Some of the Phrases Used in the Address Attract Widespread Comment as Bearing on Foreign Relations in General.

Washington, March 5.—President Wilson went to Congress today and pleaded for repeal of the provision of the Panama Canal act which exempts American coastwise shipping from tolls. He tersely asserted that his reason for asking the repeal was because everywhere except in the United States the tolls exemption was regarded as a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and he further asked it in support of the administration's general foreign policy.

That the President's request will be granted there seemed little doubt tonight, despite tne fact that there will be vigorous opposition both in the Senate and the House. Initiative action will be taken tomorrow when the House Inter-State and Foreign Commerce Committee will meet to consider the message. It was said tonight that this committee would report a bill to flatly repeal the exemption provision. In the Senate today Senator Chilton, a Democratic member of the Inter-coastal Canals Committee, introduced an amendment to the canal act to give the President authority to make or suspend tolls by proclamation and to prescribe tolls in cases exempted. This would put it up directly to the President to eliminate the exemption.

Significance of Certain Phrases.

Aside from the bearing of today's message on the Panama tolls question, some of the phrases used by the President attracted widespread comment in Congressional quarters as bearing on foreign relations in general. In some quarters there was a disposition to regard some of his statements in the nature of a warning regarding the difficulties involved in "other matters of even greater delicacy and nearer consequence."

Later in the day the President himself, talking with callers, explained that these phrases had no significance beyond their bearing on the need of rigorous good faith in the Panama tolls question as an evidence of unwavering faith on all other questions, and that nothing critical was pending in foreign relations. But the language of the message continued to be commented upon as having an application considerably broader than the Panama question.

Three points in particular were noted:

First—The President's statement that no communication he had addressed to Congress carried "graver or more far-reaching implications to the interest of the country."

Second—That everywhere outside the United States the language of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was given but one interpretation.

Third—The concluding statement as to "other matters of even greater delicacy and nearer consequence."

European Nations in Accord.

The President further told his callers that while he never had received any formal communications on the subject, he had understood that European nations generally took the same view as did Great Britain, that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was violated by the Panama Canal act. He pointed out that in dealing with foreign affairs nations which believed the United States did not keep its promise on so important a treaty as the Hay-Pauncefote convention would not be likely to expect sincerity on other delicate questions.

Word had come to the President of a general impression in Europe that the United States was "sailing as close to the wind as possible" in interpreting promises made in its treaties. No pressure had been brought to bear by any nation, but the President felt confident that foreign governments had this feeling on the subject.

In this connection Mr. Wilson revealed the fact that since his talk a year ago with former Ambassador Bryce, in which he gave assurances that the tolls question would be taken up at the regular session of Congress, no communication formal or otherwise, had passed between Great Britain and the United States.

Evidence of His Earnestness.

The President said no particular thing had caused him to read the message except a doubt that had existed in some quarters in Congress as to how strongly convinced he was as to the necessity of repeal. He had felt that he wanted members of Congress to realize that he earnestly sought them to reverse their action of a year ago.

Inherited Many Foreign Problems.

Senator Shively, acting chairman of the foreign relations committee, commenting tonight, said he was assured President Wilson's reference to "other matters" meant all foreign matters confronting the government.

"The administration has inherited many foreign problems," he said, "and it is necessary that our foreign relations be readjusted. That is what I think the President had in mind."

When the House committee on inter-State commerce meets tomorrow, it is expected to favorably report the Sims bill to repeal the exemption clause. On the Senate side a bill for that purpose was introduced last year

AWAIT OUTCOME OF CARRANZA INQUIRY

Administration's Policy Thereafter Uncertain.

TENSION IS REMOVED

Felix Diaz Reaches Washington and It Is Understood He Would Like to Appear Before Senate Committee.

Washington, March 5.—While tension that had been felt over the Mexican situation as a result of the Benton execution practically has been removed in official circles here, the discussion of Mexican affairs at both the capitol and executive quarters today revealed a broad interest in many details of the Mexican problem.

The expedition of the American commission to Chihuahua to examine the body of Benton has been abandoned only temporarily, according to officials. The outcome of the inquiry instituted by the Mexican Constitutionalists themselves, however, is awaited and officials have given no inkling as to what their policy will be thereafter.

General Carranza has addressed to American Consul Simpich, at Nogales, a third note to the United States government setting forth that the commission which he had appointed to investigate the Benton execution would endeavor to clear up the mystery attending the disappearance of Gustav Bauch, an American citizen.

Secretary Bryan said the visit of George C. Carothers, consular agent, to General Carranza, did not concern the Benton case. He declined to say what the purpose of the mission was.

Felix Diaz, who helped Huerta to overthrow Madero and later fled from Vera Cruz because of fear of Huerta, arrived here today.

Diaz in Washington.

It is generally supposed that he desires to appear before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, though he has submitted no request and has avoided publicity. Senator Shively, acting chairman of the committee, said Diaz would be heard, if he wished, as all information possible on the Mexican situation was being gathered by the committee. No promise will be made for the support of any counter-revolution in Mexico, such as two Mexicans, who said they represented Diaz, outlined before the Foreign Relations Committee yesterday. Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, has declared that he would not give a hearing to Diaz if he had his way about

TOURISTS ARRIVE TODAY

Contending Factions in Baseball World Fight to Secure Signatures of Famous Players.

New York, March 5.—Men prominent in organized baseball as well as a large group of Federal leaguers, arrived here today to welcome the world touring ball players who will come in tomorrow on the steamer Lusitania. Plans have been made to greet the much-traveled teams at quarantine, which the liner is expected to leave in time to dock by 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning.

Besides the welcome to the tourists, which in its main feature will take the form of a banquet Saturday night, the time of the magnates in organized baseball is expected to be well occupied by conferences over the status of the game, in view of the situation created by the advent of the Federals. The latter have a particular interest in the home coming of the Giants and White Sox because of their desire to secure the signatures of some of the returning players to Federal League contracts.

Ban Johnson, president of the American League, came on the same train today with James Gilmore, head of the Federal organization. Tonight also brought John K. Tener, president of the National League to the city. The National Commission trio was completed by the arrival of August Herrmann from Cincinnati. Many other officials also arrived.

The Federal League delegation in addition to Gilmore consists of E. E. Gates, of Indianapolis, counsel for the league; George Ward and Walter Ward, of the Brooklyn Federals; Manager George Stovall, of the Kansas City club; Manager Mordecai Brown, of St. Louis, and Larry Schlafly, of Buffalo. Otto Stiefel, of St. Louis; and Ned Hanlon and Otto Knabe, of Baltimore, will be here tomorrow.

The Chicago friends of President Comiskey, eighty in number who arrived today, have chartered the steamer Niagara to meet the Lusitania at quarantine.

The magnates will meet the Lusitiana on the government revenue cutter which leaves here at 6 in the morning. Many major league club owners have tickets of admission to the cutter, which at a late hour President Gilmore and his associates had been unable to get.

"There was some talk of chartering a boat, but as this would not give the Federals admission to the Lusitiana, they were said to have about decided to meet the players at the dock, which will give the organized men an advantage.

Gilmore today sent wireless messages to the eight players he wants—Speaker, Crawford, Magee, Wingo, Egan, Leverenz, Doolan and Evans—

BRYAN DISCUSSED MEXICO SITUATION

House Foreign Affairs Committee is Audience.

ALL PHASES BRIEFLY

No Pressure on United States From Other Nations, Declares Secretary of State—Terrazas Pleads for Son.

Washington, March 5.—"You may say that I discussed all phases of the Mexican situation," said Secretary Bryan today after a conference with the House Foreign Affairs Committee, "but I cannot go into details.

"In discussing the Mexican situation before the committee I said in answer to a question that no pressure was being brought to bear on us by any of the European nations and that none had been. Some of the members of the committee said that in view of the newspaper reports to the contrary, it might be well if that statement were given to the public, and I told them that I would give it to the public."

Mr. Bryan took up with the committee reports the State Department had received regarding Americans in Mexico and declared it would be inadvisable to precipitate discussion of the Mexican question in Congress at this time. Incidentally referring to Great Britain, he said the powers were supporting the American policy.

Mr. Bryan expressed confidence that General Carranza, Constitutionalist leader, eventually would allow a full investigation, jointly by British and American representatives of the killing of William S. Benton. He asserted the number of attacks on foreigners in Mexico had been greatly exaggerated, and indicated that the United States would insist upon ample reparation for losses sustained by foreigners and the punishment of the guilty.

Pleads for Son.

El Paso, Texas, March 5.—General Luis Terrazas this afternoon appealed to Marion Letcher, American consul at Chihuahua, now in this city awaiting instructions, to save his son Luis, whose life has been made the forfeit of 500,000 pesos ransom money if not paid over to General Francisco Villa, the rebel leader.

Consul Letcher declared himself deeply moved by the appeal of the Octogenarian head of the great Mexican family whose wide possessions have been confiscated by the Constitutionalists, but had to reply that he was helpless in the matter.

"I am eighty years old and neither life nor money mean much to me," said General Terranzas. "My son Luis has 13 children and they need him. I would gladly return to Chihuahua and Villa could kill me instead of my son."

While General Terrazas did not say as much, the interview left inference that he is not now in possession of the sum demanded."

Luis, the son, is about 50 years old, and for several months has been held prisoner by the rebels.

At the time of his arrest, the rebels demanded $650,000 gold as the price of his life. This sum was slow in being paid, Luis taken out and a noose adjusted about his neck. Then he was gently hoisted from his feet. The torture was repeated until he signalled that he would pay the sum demanded —all that he had in the Chihuahua bank.

After this incident he was removed from the palace, where he had been confined, and allowed to live under guard with his family in one of his father's houses. When relatives some time later appealed to Villa to release him, but Villa refused.

General Terrazas left Consul Letcher's room visibly shaken. He was surrounded by friends and relatives.

Personal Appeal to Bryan.

A personal appeal to Secretary Bryan was suggested but the old man only shook his head. The appeal, however, may be made, unless it is possible to raise the ransom money. The great bulk of the Terrazas fortune, estimated at $40,000,000 gold, was tied up by the confiscation order and most of the money available in foreign countries has been spent in the last three years.

It was said tonight that the most serious obstacle in the way of a settlement of the matter is Villa's re-

OUTLINES

Miss Laura Drake Gill, president of the College for Women at Sewanee, Tenn., addressed the Religious Education Association in session at New Haven, Conn.

President Wilson told a joint session of Congress why he thought the free tolls provision in the Panama Canal Act should be repealed. Action will be taken immediately by Congress along the lines he suggested.

Two Senators have given notice that they will speak upon the Mexican question Saturday.

Secretary Bryan briefly discussed all phases of the Mexican squabble to the House Foreign Affairs committee.

Earthquake shocks were felt all over Georgia and South Carolina yesterday afternoon. No damage is reported, but the quiver was distinct and windows were rattled in a number of places.

New York markets: Money on call steady 1 3-4 to 2 per cent; ruling rate 1 3-4; closing 1 3-4 to 2; time loans firmer. Flour quiet. Wheat easy; No. 2 red 1.03 1-2; No. 1 Northern Duluth 1.03. Corn easy. Rosin quiet. Turpentine steady. Spot cotton quiet, middling uplands 13.00; gulf 13.25; no sales.

Eleventh Annual Meeting of Religious Education Association in New Haven Hears President of College for Women.

New Haven, Conn., March 5.—"Thirty years ago the prediction was made that the higher education was fostering a blow to the health of women," said Miss Laura Drake Gill, president of the College for Women, Sewanee, Tenn., in addressing the 11th annual Religious Education Association Convention here today, "but figures show that only a small percentage have impaired health.

"Later the cry was that college women were not marrying early enough, or if they married, they did not have children enough. Again figures show that while college women marry a little later in life, they finally marry in the same proportion, as their nearest female blood relatives who were not college graduates, and that they have relatively larger families; a larger percentage are boys and their children have better health."

Miss Francis Cummings, of the Inter-collegiate Bureau of Occupation, in New York said college graduates are taking more interest in social service, and that during the last two months 1,175 persons applied for work of this character.

D. J. Fleming, of Lahore, India, told of social service among Oriental students, saying that the Western idea of service had penetrated the Far East, and is influencing the breaking down of caste.

Edwin A. Kilpatrick, Fitchburg, Mass., said there were no standards by which society could select young people for higher education.

The first public session was held in Woolsey Hall, at Yale tonight and was largely attended. Speakers were President Arthur T. Hadley, of Yale; President C. F. Thwing, of Western Reserve University; Prof. T. G. Soares, of Chicago University, and Dean Brown, of the Yale Divinity School.

Mr. Soares said there is a widespread feeling that we need a genuine revival of religion.

Prof. W. B. Bailey, of Yale, discussing the higher cost of a college education today, said:

"The cost of a college education has increased somewhat, but not in the same proportion as the cost of living."

ELLIS GUILTY OF MURDER

Jury Returned Verdict After Being Out Three and a Half Hours. Given Fifteen Years.

Chicago, March 5.—William Cheney Ellis today was found guilty of murdering his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Hosea Ellis, last October in a Chicago hotel. Punishment was fixed at imprisonment in the State penitentiary for 15 years.

The jury reached a decision after deliberating three and one-half hours.

Ellis' defense of psychic epilepsy or transitory insanity apparently was disregarded by the jurors. Ellis claimed he had been driven to mania by knowledge that his wife had given her love to Fred G. Cauldwell, a young dry goods merchant of Brantford, Ont.

Ellis killed his wife in their hotel room here October 16th, 1913. He is 47 years old and has been a dealer in leather goods in Cincinnati. He followed his wife here several days after she came to Chicago on a visit to relatives. They celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary with a dinner and theatre party the night of the murder.

When found with the corpse Ellis appeared dazed. He had slightly slashed his own wrists and throat, and at first declared the tragedy was the result of a suicide agreement because of his business troubles. Before the coroner's jury he changed his explanation and testified that he alone was responsible for the killing, but that he had meant that both should die. Later the defense of temporary mania was proposed and the burden of its cause laid on an alleged infatuation of Mrs. Ellis for Cauldwell.

Cauldwell declined to come to Chicago to testify, but from his home in Canada sent dispatches denying the accusations of Ellis.

At the time of the murder it was testified Ellis was broken in health, his business had dwindled and he had been the victim, for a long period, of spells of brooding, depression and nervousness.

CUTTER SEMINOLE PICKS UP SCHOONER.

Massasoit of New Haven, Being Towed to Virginia Capes.

Washington, March 5.—With her steering gear entirely gone the four-masted schooner Massasoit, of New Haven, was being towed to the Virginia Capes today by the revenue cutter Seminole. She was picked up off Diamond Shoals near Cape Hatteras. Captain Carden, of the Seminole, reported that the Massasoit was giving much trouble and was being towed with difficulty owing to the loss of her gear and the consequent violent shearing in the heavy seas. The Massasoit sailed from Brunswick, Ga., for New York February 18th.

TWO JOBS ARE OPEN

State Department Needs Counsellor and Solicitor

Irrespective of Political Affiliations Selections to Fill Places Will be Made According to Merit of the Men.

Washington, March 5.—Wanted—The best authority on international law, and the best lawyer obtainable for the positions of counselor and solicitor, respectively, in the State Department.

This was the word which came from the White House today with the information, too, that President Wilson sought the most efficient men for these places, irrespective of their political affiliations. For the post of counselor, vacated today by John Basset Moore, the President realizes that he will have a difficult task in finding another such authority on international questions. He hopes, however, to get an experienced international law expert, who has had broad diplomatic training as well.

The names of W. W. Rockhill, former ambassador to Turkey and Russia, who recently was mentioned for the position of diplomatic adviser to the President of China, was prominent in today's discussion. Henry White, former ambassador to France, also was mentioned, as were William Bayard Hale and John Lind, who have been unofficial representatives of the President in Mexican affairs.

For the position of solicitor, which requires adaptation to the legal affairs of the State Department the claims made on the United States government abroad and matters relating to extradition, there were few names discussed.

Members of Congress are expected to make recommendations shortly for both positions.

Mr. Moore is prepared to take up his work for the Carnegie endowment for international peace and, later to resume his place as head of the department of international law at Columbia University.

Although the official correspondence between President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Mr. Moore announcing the resignation, emphasized that the counselor was leaving the government service only because the term for which he had promised to serve was at an end, there was continued discussion in official and diplomatic circles here of lack of harmony between Secretary Bryan and Counselor Moore, and persistent stories of how Mr. Moore became dissatisfied with the arrangement of his duties in the State Department.

While it was admitted that Mr. Moore's views on the recognition of the Huerta government and the administration's course in other foreign affairs differed from those of his chiefs, all officials took pains to say that the counselor had carried out administration policies when once agreed upon. One phase of the resignation being widely discussed was that Mr. Moore, at the end of his administration found himself performing duties usually assigned to officials far below the rank of counselor, and at times learned much regarding the administration's policies from news dispatches. One of such instances being referred to today was when Mr. Moore first heard of the sending of John Lind to Mexico through the newspapers.

The vacancy in the office of solicitor of the department was caused by the resignation of Joseph W. Folk, who is to become chief counsel to the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

DAYLIGHT HOLD-UP.

Bold, Brave Man Secures $45 in Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., March 5.—A daylight hold-up in the center of Atlanta's business section today netted a well dressed stranger $45 of the funds of the Jefferson Loan Society. The robber entered the company's place of business, covered I. Steinberg, the clerk on duty, with a revolver, and forced him to surrender the money in the cash drawer. He then commanded him to open the safe.

"I'll die first," Steinberg told him.

"Oh, if you want to fight about it, I'll go," said the stranger, backing out of the door. Several pedestrians, passing the store, saw him replace his pistol in his pocket and quickly disappear around a corner.

Plans for the collection of a fund to send an American team to compete at the Olympic games at Berlin in 1916 were considered.

Chicago, March 5.—Eddie McGorty, the American boxer now in Australia, will meet George Carpenter, the French champion in a bout in Ireland some time in May, according to a message from McGorty today. Richard Croker, the former New York politician, is reported to have offered a purse of $20,000 for the fight.

South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee Feel Shock.

BUILDINGS WERE ROCKED

Negroes in Rural Districts Badly Frightened by Seismic Disturbance.

NO DAMAGE REPORTED

Windows Were Shaken and Vases and Pottery Broken but Beyond Excitement of Citizens No Damaged Reported.

Atlanta, Ga., March 5. — Seismic shocks, slight but distinct, were felt late today in many cities and towns of Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and the Carolinas. At numerous points business buildings and residences trembled, windows rattled and mild excitement prevailed. In the rural districts negroes were badly frightened. As recorded by the seismograph at Mobile, the tremors were light but rapid, indicating that the disturbance was not far distant. Reports from many sections tonight were that the shocks did no damage and that no one was injured.

Recorded at Mobile.

Mobile, Ala., March 5.—Seismic disturbances, the third to be recorded within the last two weeks, were registered by the seismograph at Spring Hill College here at 3:05 o'clock this afternoon. The waves were rapid and the recording impression was slight, indicating, according to the authorities, that the disturbance was not far away. The seismograph recorded a succession of tremors within a period of about ten minutes, but those occurring about 3:05 were the most violent.

In Sunny Tennessee.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 5.—A distinct earth tremor, slight but unmistakable, was felt here late today. The disturbance was noticed by but few persons.

Distinctly at Anderson.

Anderson, S. C., March 5.—At 4:15 this afternoon a distinct seismic shock was felt throughout this county.

At Greensville, S. C.

Greenville, S. C., March 5.—A slight earth tremor was felt here late this afternoon. No damage has been reported.

Lasted Several Seconds.

Columbus, Ga., March 5.—An earth shock, lasting several seconds, was felt here and at Girard, Ala., just across the river late today.

Felt at Athens.

Athens, Ga., March 5.—A distinct earth tremor, apparently an earthquake, was felt here at 4:05 this afternoon.

Shook Buildings.

Macon, Ga., March 5.—An earthquake shock was felt here at 3:06 P. M. It shook chandeliers in the Federal building and houses in the residence sections trembled. The shock was felt throughout Central Georgia.

SENATE CONTINUES SUFFRAGE DEBATE.

Vardaman Offers Amendment to Resolution—No Quorum Present.

Washington, March 5.—Debate on woman suffrage continued in the Senate today without the expected vote on the proposed constitutional amendment being reached. Late in the day many Senators were missing from their seats, and lack of a quorum prevented a vote on an amendment to the pending resolution submitted by Senator Vardaman.

"Our women," the Mississippi Senator had declared, "will not go to the polls to vote in competition with a race congenially and unalterably unfit to perform the supreme function of citizenship."

He said he would support the resolution if Congress repealed the 15th amendment and modified the 14th amendment, and to this end he offered his amendment to the resolution. As amended the resolution would provide for woman suffrage in all the States, but in all other respects the right of citizens to vote would be left to the States in which they reside.

Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, told the Senate that although he had voted for woman suffrage in his State, he was opposed to a Federal constitutional amendment that would force equal suffrage on States opposed to it. The fact that only 2 per cent of the women had exercised the school franchise in Ohio, he added, was evidence that they did not want the ballot in his State.

Senator Works, of California, said he disliked a constitutional amendment for the same reasons, but was so earnestly in favor of woman suffrage that he would vote for it.

Notes From the Phillie Camp

RAIN KEPT 'EM IN YESTERDAY.

Short Workout in Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium in Morning.

Aside from a little work at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, there was absolutely nothing doing in the training line yesterday, the rain having descended throughout the entire day without intermission, and Dooin and his charges had a good opportunity, as well as justified grounds for getting huffy with the Wilmington weather man again.

As Mr. Rinehardt, of the Evening Telegraph, puts it, "stormbound for days in a hotel in a city which doesn't know it's alive, it is not surprising that Southern lassitude should supplant Northern 'pep,' and that the enforced 'indoor sports,' consisting in the main of conversational efforts and card and pool tournies should add no firmness to tissues made flabby by a Winter of physical ease, and Boss Dooin counts every day lost now as something the value of which can hardly be measured in dollars and cents."

But the weather man is promising fair weather for today, although somewhat colder, and if the rain of yesterday was not sufficient to again make the diamond soft, practice will be resumed this morning.

Josh Devore is the main comedian in the Phillies' camp. He claims that he had an offer to go into vaudeville, but refuses to give amateur performances for the entertainment of the party. He boasts also of a wonderful voice, but hides behind that old-time "cold-in-the-throat" excuse.

Playing baseball is quite a side issue for Ben Tincup. It is said that the Redskin has an income of $60,000 a year. Ben says that he enjoys the game and indulges merely for his health.

Already the Phillies are looking forward to March 17th, when the Irish and the Dutch will clash in the annual St. Patrick's battle. Both sides are disputing as to which side Mayer and Tincup will be placed on.

George Gaddy has opened up his speed valve a few times and it is plain that the rumor to the effect that the Westener has some "smoke" is not altogether unfounded. The native son is the only lefthander in the crowd.

Mike Dee, the trainer, is a busy man these days. In the dressing room the players are always clamoring for a little rub to ease the pain of sore muscles.

The "War Correspondents" with the Phillies have formed an association. The official title is the Southern Sporting Scribes' Society. Secretary Brandt is going to Jacksonville next week in order to formulate plans for a chapter there.

The billiard hall across from the Phillies hotel lost the patronage of the players when they attempted to raise the rates on the men. Magee, Mayer and Devore wandered over to the place for a game but when told that it would cost twenty cents a cue immediately marched back to the hotel, and the proprietor has been unable to induce them to return, although he agreed to charge them only the ordinary price.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

C. Starr Matthews, writing in yesterday's Baltimore Sun, says: "Baltimore wants Mike Doolan, who has been one of the stars of the Philadelphia Nationals for several years. They have some assurance that he is ready to talk business with them, and Knabe, who has played by his side for a number of seasons, will be sent out to throw the rope to Michael."

BASKETBALL TOMORROW.

Strong Wilson Team Will Meet High School Quintette at Y. M. C. A.

The local basketball fans will have an opportunity of witnessing one of the fastest games of basketball yet played in the Y. M. C. A. when the High School team meets the strong quintette from the Wilson High School tomorrow afternoon. The locals have been worsted by the Wilson boys once this season, and are anxious to retrieve their defeat.

The Wilson boys claim the championship of the State, having defeated every high school team they have played. Should the Wilmington boys win tomorrow afternoon as they intend to do this would give them a chance at the State championship.

The line-up for Wilson will be as follows: Magette and Branch, forwards; Wray (captain), center; Moss and Dew, guards. All of these players are thoroughly familiar with the fine points of the game and are also fast players.

The local team will be chosen from the following men: Morrison, Hall and McIntyre, forwards; Shepard (captain), center; Monroe, Hanby, Rhodes and Silverman, guards. Physical Director Selters will refree.

The admission charge for the game will be only 15 and 25 cents. There is plenty of space in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium for a large crowd and it is hoped that there will be a fine attendance. The game will be called promptly at 3:30 o'clock.

TRACK MEETS ANNOUNCED.

Wake Forest Squad Begins Training in Earnest.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest, N. C., March 5.—With a more moderate temperature in the weather, the track squad has begun training in dead earnest. Captain Langeston states that the prospect is better than ever before.

Among the old men are Tyner, who holds the State record on the 220-yard dash; Hart, Bird, Horne, Inscoe, Britton and Savage. There are quite a number of freshmen who are showing up well: Harris, in practice has broken the State record by four inches on the high jump. Trust also is a good man.

Manager L. B. Horne has announced the following meets for the spring:

March 21—A. & M. at Wake Forest.
April 4—University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
April 6—Trinity at Durham.
April 13—A. & M. at Raleigh.
April 18—Trinity at Wake Forest.

MONTE CROSS JOINS.

Federal League Umpires in Chicago Yesterday.

Chicago, March 5.—Monte Cross joined the Federal League umpires here today and brought with him a high testimonial for Harry Fritz, third baseman for the Wilmington Tri-State League team, who is sought by Manager Tinker, of the local club. According to Cross, Fritz is a "young Lajoie."

COMPANY B AND WILSON TEAM TONIGHT.

Hard-Fought Basketball Contest Expected at Boys' Brigade Armory.

Great interest is being shown in the basketball game to be played at the Boys' Brigade armory tonight between Company B and the Wilson High School team, which claims the high school championship of the State. The only high school team to defeat them was that of Goldsboro. They, however, turned the tables on Goldsboro soon afterwards. In the game played at Wilson last week between Company B and Wilson some of the best work of the season was witnessed. Both teams are evenly matched in all points of the game, height, weight, experience and everything else. In that game Company B defeated the Wilson boys, but only after the hardest kind of playing. The first half ended with Company B seven points ahead, but during the second half the Wilson boys turned the tables on their opponents and scored two more points than Company B and won the second half, pulling their opponents' lead down to five points.

In this game tonight the Wilson boys confidently expect to win, as they claim that one of their men was not in condition to play his best game. They claim to be in perfect condition now, and will make things warm for Company B if possible. Immediately after their last meeting in Wilson the Wilson team went into special training to meet the style of play of Company B and if work will help them to win they will do so. However, Company B realizes that they have a hard team to defeat and they, too, have been training for this meeting. They are in the pink of condition for a hard game and if the Wilson boys win they will know that they have been in one of the hardest games of the season. There are seven players on Company B team, and Captain Register has not yet fully decided just how he will line his team up for this contest, though he will probably use every man before the game is over. Wilson has six players on its team and they, too, will probably all be seen in the game. The tickets for the game are going fast as there are more than enough enthusiasts who want to see this game to overflow the seating room at the Brigade. The price of admission will be 25 cents. The teams will probably line up during the first half as follows:

Wilson		Company B
Branch	F	Branch
Magette	F	Register
Mass	C	Bornemann
Dew	G	Shoiar
Wray	G	E.Register

Prof. C. G. Mann, of Wilson, will act as referee; Mr. Chas. Dushan, umpire; L. T. Davis, scorer; J. U. King, timer. Time of game 8:30.

RELAY RACES.

Nearly 200 Institutions Entered for Big Event.

Philadelphia, March 5.—Nearly 200 institutions are entered for the annual relay races of the University of Pennsylvania April 25th, according to Athletic authorities of the University.

The number includes nearly all the big colleges East and West and also Oxford University, of England. The four-mile relay race for the international championship, if Oxford enters that particular contest, is expected to be the feature of the meet.

GOING AFTER KEITH'S SCALP

Simmons and Godwin Will Call on McAdoo This Week—Wilmington Man Honored.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., March 5.—After a conference today Senator Simmons and Representative Godwin decided that they would call on Secretary McAdoo either tomorrow or Saturday and further urge the dismissal of Collector of Customs Keith, of Wilmington.

Both Senator Simmons and Representative Godwin have committee meetings tomorrow which may prevent them from going to the Treasury Department. If so, they will make the trip Saturday morning. It is understood that the two Tar Heel statesmen have loaded their guns with buck shot and that they will do some fine tooth hunting for the official scalp of Mr. Keith.

District Attorney's Offices.

If Attorney General McReynolds insists upon a strict interpretation of his recent plan of having district attornies and marshals reside in the towns where the Federal judge of the district lives, it would result not only in District Attorney Hammer moving to Greensboro, but of Marshal Webb also. Furthermore, District Attorney Winston and Marshal Dortch would have to move their official residences to Wilson. However, it is not believed that the order will be carried this far. It is almost certain, however, that Winston will be ordered to live in Raleigh and that Dortch will not be given permission to move to Goldsboro.

Former Wilmington Man Honored.

James Julian Southerland, a former Wilmington man, has been appointed senior assistant-Attorney General for the Postoffice Department. It is next to the highest job in the law division of the department.

Southerland was educated in the high school of Wilmington and at George Washington University.

BLACK NEGRO ATTACKS GIRL AT KINSTON.

But is Frightened Away After Grasping Her Waist.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Kinston, N. C., March 5.—This morning at 6:30 pretty Susie Jones, about 16, the daughter, in short dress, of a widow, of McDaniel street, East Kinston, was attacked by an unknown black a few paces from her home, as she started for Orion knitting mills, where she is employed.

The girl was passed by a negro who looked about 30 years of age, of medium stature, and black. He turned and grasped her about the waist. The negro was not quick enough to prevent the girl crying out, and when she screamed neighbors ran to her assistance and the assailant fled in the semi-darkness. The attack was one of unusual daring, the scene being a much frequented thoroughfare and the time about an hour when the operatives of the cotton and hosiery mills in East Kinston, many of whom live in the vicinity, start out for their work.

Shortly after the attempted assault police and sheriff's officers surrounded nearby lumber and oil plants and detained every one of the negroes in the works. A man had been seen running into a building at a lumber plant. The girl was carried to the spot but was unable to identify him as her attacker. No arrests have been made.

Before the news was widespread, the officers were in the section in force and handled the matter so thoroughly that there was no demonstration. After the report of the attack had reached the mill where she is employed, little Alice Smith, another mill worker, reported to a foreman that yesterday a negro tallying in every respect with the Jones girl's assailant, had made her an insulting proposal. The timid girl had been ashamed to disclose the insult until the excitement of this morning.

SECOND CAMPAIGN AGAINST HOOKWORM IN EDGECOMBE.

For Eradication of the Hookworm.—School Children Examined.

(Especial Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., March 4.—The second exhaustive campaign against the hookworm in Edgecombe county has been under way for three weeks and the hookworm physician, Dr. D. C. Absher, who has the work in charge, is much encouraged over the interest being taken in the eradication of this disease. Tuesday 125 Edgecombe county school children, embracing several of the smaller rural schools of the county, were examined for infection.

While this is the second campaign against the hookworm in Edgecombe county, this county having been among the first in the State two years ago to arrange for gratis examinations and treatment, there is unusual interest and the campaign is attracting some little attention in all parts of the country.

LAW SUIT IS IMMINENT.

Citizens on Certain Street in Newbern Are Angry.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., March 5.—As an outcome of the action of the Newbern board of aldermen in granting the Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company to use a section of Queen street for a shifting yard during certain hours of the day, citizens living along that street are very angry and a law suit is imminent.

Several weeks ago the citizens living along Queen street presented a petition to the board asking that the railway company be prohibited from shifting on the street as it was a nuisance and a memace to the public. The matter "hung fire" for several weeks and when brought up last night the railway people were favored. The attorney who has charge of the peoples' side of the case declares that he will bring suit against the city and the railway company in order to stop the nuisance.

RAIN INTERFERED.

In Opening Round of Annual Spring Golf Tournament at Pinehurst.

Pinehurst, N. C., March 5.—Rain today interfered with the opening round of match play in the annual spring golf tournament here. All matches in the first flight, however, were completed, the survivors being C. R. McMillan, Essex Country Club; J. S. Harding, Oakmont; W. H. Faust, Buffalo; P. W. Whittemore, Brookline; I. S. Robeson, Oak Hill; R. C. Shannon, 2d, Oak Hill; C. L. Becker, Woodland, and S. K. DeForest, Lakewood. They will be paired for the second round in the order named.

PAYS DEATH PENALTY TODAY

R. W. Cobb, Young White Man of Halifax, to be Electrocuted for Murder of Man He Robbed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., March 5.—R. W. Cobb, the young white man from Halifax county, will pay the death penalty in the electric chair in the State's prison here tomorrow forenoon for the murder of Thomas Shaw, a country merchant of Halifax county, last May. Governor Craig has definitely made up his mind that he will not commute to life imprisonment.

He has granted two reprieves, the first in order that counsel might have time to prepare a petition for the Supreme court to re-hear the appeal, and the other in order that Cobb might have time to prepare for death, the court having turned down the petition. The Governor has been urged to commute to life imprisonment on the ground that Cobb is not guilty. He says he has not considered the matter on that score at all, but that there is certainly no ground for commutation in the light of his guilt.

Cobb hid in the porch of Shaw's residence and waited for him to come from the store near by with the cash receipts for the day. He ordered Shaw to put up his hands and the latter, thinking it was some young fellow playing a prank, ordered him to quit his foolishness and advanced upon him. Cobb shot, wounding his victim fatally.

Then he jumped a fence and escaped on a bicycle that was tracked to where Cobb delivered it to a man named Taylor from whom he had borrowed it. There was evidence that he had boasted to a pal that he would commit the robbery and get away on a bicycle that a blood hound could not trail. A blood hound did trail him to the bicycle, the track of which was clear to where he delivered it to its owner.

CHARTERS ISSUED.

Raleigh, N. C., March 5.—A charter is issued for the Merchants' & Farmers' Bank of Mocksville, Davie county, capital $50,000 authorized and $10,000 subscribed by J. L. Armfield, of Thomasville, and others for general and savings banking business. Other charters are as follows:

The Biltmore Live[illegible] Co., of Biltmore, Buncombe county, capital $10,000 authorized and $5,400 subscribed by J. G. Stickleather and others.

The Graham Land Co., of Graham, capital $25,000, by A. L. Holmes and others.

The Caraleigh Phosphate & Fertilizer Works, of Raleigh, amend charter so that the capital is increased to $400,000, of which $200,000 shall be 6 per cent preferred stock.

There is an amendment for the charter of the Siler City Light & Telephone Co., of Siler City, providing for an increase of capital to $25,000. C. M. Bray is president of the corporation.

"REBEL" OAKES JUMPED.

St. Louis National League Team's Outfielder Joins Federals.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 5.—"Rebel" Oakes, outfielder of the St. Louis club, of the National League, has jumped to the Federal League. This fact was admitted this afternoon by Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis club, who said that he did not know what club had secured Oakes' services or what salary he was to receive. Manager Huggins also stated that Shortstop Hauser, who is seriously ill in a sanitarium in St. Augustine, will be sent to his home in Chicago tomorrow.

You will enjoy the whiteness and lightness of bread made with

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday at $6 per year; $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate and like matter will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders and postal money orders for the paper should be made payable, and all communications should be addressed, to THE WILMINGTON STAR CO.

The Pender Chronicle wants to name the public roads. The name of many of them is mud.

Some people have a way of "starting something," in blissful ignorance that it is something small.

If the local political atmosphere does not clear up, at least this weather ought to give the Phillies a chance.

Some of the baseball dope sent out from Wilmington looks for the world like a foul tip with a bush leaguer at the bat.

Admiral von Diedrich's? Oh, yes, he is the German gentleman whose name had been forgotten till Admiral Dewey wrote a book.

Dr. Mary Walker urges girls to wear pants, but the girls are more interested in getting a fellow who can afford to wear pants that suit her fancy.

Our idea about something to laugh at is the way some men get into a small political job and rattle around in it with inflated ideas about the size of the job.

Among other things which a man doesn't know he can't do, is to give out the particulars of a wedding so it won't make the bride and her maids have a fit.

Cheer up! Last year there were 9,000 homicides in the United States, and you are here to tell the tale, provided you are not responsible for helping to keep the grave-diggers busy.

In his Brookiyn address Vice President Marshall said: "Kiss your wife at least once a day." Of course, that's all right, but even then most of them would rather be taken to the movies.

Even if Mr. McGirt did not sign the telegram for the Woodrow Wilson Club, of Wilmington, he could hardly have signed it as a member of a Democratic Board of County Commissioners?

Says the Philadelphia Record: "Some men are cranks and some are self-starters." Some are kickers who go off half-cocked, just the same as a shipping clerk who is sent out on the road for his first trip as a drummer.

Word comes from New York that John L. Sullivan is now "a leading prohibition orator and boomer." We regard that as an intimation that John L. has arrived at the conclusion that it is about time for him to quit trying to get the best of booze.

Marion Harland, the writer, insists that neighbors ought to talk confidentially and truthfully about their children. Well, if they were to do it, the kids should be sent out to play so they could not get the impression that their parents are nothing but a bunch of knockers.

Congress has made it unlawful for women to work more than eight hours a day. Those who have to do it would like for Congress to tell them how to earn enough in eight hours to keep from working longer. Congress ought to make it unlawful to pay a woman less than 20 cents an hour.

Mr. Godwin's gratuitous remarks about members of the Woodrow Wilson Club in New Hanover who have kept the faith will hardly set well upon the stomachs of a number of those who have no apologies to make for having voted and worked for the present occupant of the White House.

Noting the British monarch's interest in baseball, the Boston Globe says "King George was quick to learn the game." However, we fear he will never learn how to interpret the language so as to understand what is meant by reference to a bush leaguer who is called a bonehead when he can't do a thing but fan the pill.

Says the New York World: "Dr. Lowell, the astronomer, says the snow on Mars is melting." Under conditions like that, it would not be news for some wise guy to send word from Mars that the three bags on the baseball ground need an anchor to hold them down till the diamond gets dry. There are some things to be inferred, as well as to be expected, when weather conditions cannot be helped.

THE STORY OF THE DOLLAR THAT STAID AT HOME.

Did you ever hear the story of the dollar that was kept at home? Some time ago The Star contained an editorial on keeping money at home, and the paper containing the article fell into the hands of a man in Cincinnati. He so appreciated that article that he wrote to us and commended it very highly. He assured us that Cincinnati appreciated the importance of keeping Cincinnati money at home and that the Chamber of Commerce of that city has for several years kept up a campaign for the purpose of impressing on everybody in Cincinnati the value of money kept at home and the consequent importance of making it a policy to buy everything that can be bought in Cincinnati instead of sending Cincinnati money away for it.

The Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce in order to press the matter home, published an illustrated story of the dollar. We don't attempt to repeat the story, but it covered about this ground: This dollar (illustrated) was made in Cincinnati; this dollar was spent in Cincinnati; this dollar was kept in Cincinnati; this dollar was banked in Cincinnati; it helped to pay a check on a Cincinnati bank; it staid in Cincinnati and went the rounds in Cincinnati; it went to the butcher, to the milk man, to the grocer, to the shoe dealer, to the dry goods store, to the newspaper office, and in and out of every place of business in Cincinnati. Nobody in Cincinnati sent it away. It was put in the bank either every day or every week, and the bankers kept it going by sending it out on its rounds by paying it to those who called for money.

Probably as many as 500 people handled that dollar during the year, and every one bought a dollar's worth with it, so it was the medium through which $500 worth of goods were sold. The cash was paid and there were no collections to be made at considerable cost. Of course, that dollar was joined by thousands of others, and altogether they went into the channels of trade and made the volume of business done in Cincinnati many times greater than the actual number of dollars going from one hand to another.

Put the dollar in a stocking, lock it up, or send it away, and what would be the result? It would lessen the circulation just that much and be worthless as a medium of exchange for doing a volume of business amounting to a dollar every time it would be handled. Fifty people handling it would do $50 worth of business with it, and 500 handling it would do $500 with it as the medium of exchange. Send it to another city and it would do the business there and be lost in channels of trade where the dollar was made.

Well, what of it? Who is going to keep at home the dollar made at Wilmington? All the people who buy goods, of course. They ought to spend their money at home. They ought to patronize Wilmington merchants and dealers. Every time we write this way, Wilmington merchants give us—er-they give us the glad hand. However, what do the merchants do with the dollar that's kept at home for them to get? Why, some of them send it away for something not made in Wilmington.

Merchants can keep money at home by patronizing Wilmington industries. Not one simoleon should be sent away for anything, when just as good or better is made in Wilmington. One of Wilmington's greatest boosters is a merchant who believes in the city. He sells thousands of dollars worth of goods not a bit cheaper and not near as good as the kind made in Wilmington. He has never stopped to think about it, and that is the reason he does it.

Wilmington merchants can keep whole stacks of dollars at home. Things that can be made in Wilmington ought to be made in Wilmington. If they can be made here, but are not made here, the merchants ought to see to it that they shall be made here, if they have to get together and start a factory to supply their own needs.

What Wilmington needs is more money made in Wilmington and more money kept in Wilmington. All of us ought to be doing it, but we won't do it till we cut loose from our pipe dreams. We will just have to get together on a half dozen practical propositions instead of getting together when it comes to pulling each other's wool over politics dangerously bordering on the peanut variety.

KEITH CASE TO BAT.

Exactly as forecasted by "Red Buck" Bryant, Washington correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, the Keith collectorship fight has proved a worthy successor of the Hammer case and no subject is now being more heatedly of more persistently discussed in political circles in Washington and by the papers of the State. Mr. Keith's action in refusing to be pried loose from the Federal job, after it had been generally understood that he was ready and waiting to get out, was little less surprising than the reputed action of the Woodrow Wilson Club in endorsing his retention, which latter action, however, ere this has been repudiated by very many members of the Woodrow Wilson Club in Wilmington. The Democracy of the State now awaits Mr. Keith's making good on his proposition to resign.

The Raleigh News and Observer yesterday inferentially suggests editorially that a crow-bar should be requisitioned in the effort to loosen up the collector of customs, but personally we believe this will not be necessary. Mr. Keith would hardly continue a losing fight to hold the position under an administration with which he is admittedly not in sympathy, and we believe that, ere the fight continues longer, he will see the eminent fitness of his making good on his promise to gracefully retire, regardless of the materialization of the agency for a steamship company which he is said either to have accepted or to have agreed to accept.

Holton, Seawell, Dockery and other Federal officeholders in the State under Republican administrations, are now retired to private life and it is believed that the retirement of Mr. Keith will be accompanied by much less friction than was evident in the cases mentioned. Then, too, why not bow to the inevitable while bowing is the nicest way to step down and out?

ON THE PEOPLE'S JOB.

During the first year of his administration, which came to an end March 4th, President Wilson has kept busy with the momentous problems that specially concern the American people. Conditions in Mexico have annoyed and embarrassed him, but he never sent an army of Americans there to kill and be killed because the Mexicans won't settle their own problems to suit us and the balance of the world.

Is there universal approval of Wilson's administration during the first year he has been the Nation's Chief Executive? No—not universal. He is sharply criticised by some. For one thing, he is criticised for not hurrying an army to Mexico so that by now this country would have had several thousand more widows, paved the way to piling up the pension burden, and thinned out the population in Mexico.

Then, again, he is criticised by all the interests which have been prized loose from cinches that had grown hoary with age. He has grievously offended a certain class because he estranged the government from those who loved it for what they could get out of it.

Meanwhile, President Wilson has completed a year of incomparable administration for the interests and happiness of the American people, and there is every reason why nine-tenths of them should be glad he has three more years in which to administer a government by the people for the people.

The main reason why the people ought to stand by Wilson is because Wilson is on the people's job.

PRESIDENT WILSON ON CANAL TOLLS.

Personally, President Wilson appeared before Congress in joint session yesterday and orally delivered a brief message embodying a request for the repeal of the clause of the Panama Canal act exempting American coastwise shipping from the payment of tolls. The President used only enough words to suggest the wisdom and justice of abrogating the toll clause, which not only violates our treaty with a foreign nation, involves an act of bad faith and impugns our National honor, but which is special interest legislation totally at variance with the fundamental principles of the Democratic party.

The President made no argument, as none was needed. He performed a high duty in a way at once dignified and grave, and it is for Congress to save the Nation's face and for the Democrats in Congress to clear the skirts of the party from a piece of absolutely unadulterated subsidy legislation.

Those Mexicans do not seem to know when to "give in" to each other. They have been fighting some six or seven years, and about the time one crowd gets licked they refuse to believe anything of the kind. One reason we regard it as a waste of time to pacify those Mexicans is that they think a week is long time enough to be pacified at one time. They could never get used to it.

When twaddle is cheap twaddle why not let it go at that?

CURRENT COMMENT.

The big politicians may laugh at Congressman Godwin but the little ones can be depended upon to throw up their hats for him.—Durham Herald.

Charleston didn't get a single bid on her Boulevard lots yesterday. The increase of the city tax levy from 27 to 40 mills and more under the Grace regime is liable to knock the values out of the gilt-edged Battery property itself.—Columbia Record, March 4.

Mr. Joseph W. Ruark, our popular fellow townsman, announces his candidacy in the issue of The News for the Democratic nomination as State Senator from this, the 10th Senatorial district. The News does not essay to exploit the many several virtues nd qualifications of Mr. Ruark. Such would be a needless superfluity of words that would have little or no effect as a vote getter, but in as much as he has thrown his hat in the ring in New Hanover as well as in Brunswick, The News will venture to say this about him: If all the voters of the district knew him as well as we of Southport know him his election would be a foregone conclusion.—Southport News.

The late Honorable Ashley Horne of Clayton, N. C., was one of the few men who went beyond his three score and ten, retaining a marvelous amount of vigor for one who proved himself a valiant soldier in the dark sixties of our Civil War and a captain of industry during these 50 years of peace. A year or so before his death he was telling us that in his opinion the three great elements of success were energy, judgment and integrity. These weree th secrets of his achievements and he was right in commending them to the young men of today. Be energetic, for the lazy man is a drone in the hive or humanity; exercise good judgment, for even the energetic man may be a dismal failure; and above all, exemplify that integrity which is just and sympathetic and charitable to all; these three, calling into exercise body and mind and heart, are the certain precursors of genuine success in life.—Biblical Recorder.

THE COLLECTORSHIP.

To the Editor of The Star.

Dear Sir: Please allow me space as a former Wilmingtonian to say a few words regarding the present collector of the port of Wilmington, Mr. Keith. While all of the aspirants for this place are personal friends of the writer, I can't but help saying a few words in behalf of Mr. Keith, the present collector. I was so situated to know of my personal knowledge the uphill work Mr. Keith had in getting the new custom house project before the people of Wilmington. Some of the members of the Chamber of Commerce will recollect at a meeting held some years back when the chamber was located on Princess street, how some of our staunchest business men opposed Mr. Keith in his efforts for this new custom house, but with his untiring energy he kept eternally at it and finally won for Wilmington a public building that will be a credit to a city many times the size of Wilmington.

Mr. Keith and I are of a different political faith, but when a good citizen exerts such efforts in behalf of a community as Mr. Keith has shown in getting this custom house for Wilmington, I can't help from saying a few words in his behalf and the good people of Wilmington would certainly show great ingratitude to turn Keith out at this time.

If it had been the only way to get the custom house, Wilmington as a whole would have voted Keith the job as collector of the port for life, rather than missed it. So be generous and let him serve out his time. It would be a magnanimous thing on the part of Wilmington citizenship.

Truly yours,
L. B. ROGERS.

KEITH REPLIES TO "NICE KETTLE OF FISH."—ASKS ONLY FOR FAIR PLAY BY HONEST PEOPLE

To the Editor of The Star:

You published in yesterday's paper an article under the title "Nice Kettle of Fish," which was signed "John Wright Williams". This party calls himself "a Democrat of other days." He says he carried his Winchester in the memorable revolution of '98; and that he "has grown gray in the cause of Democracy." Though he claims all this for himself, yet no man by the name of John Wright Williams can be found by me in the city of Wilmington. Who is the "negro in the wood pile?"

So far as this article relates to me, I wish to brand it as maliciously false. The coward who wrote it employed a fictitious name in an effort to accomplish the work of a traitor. His article is false in word, in spirit and in fact. It was written for an ulterior purpose and with a deliberate intent to deceive. Honest men may differ in their views and political beliefs, but all men will denounce the rascal who lies behind a bogus name as a contemptible scoundrel.

My life and character are known in this community and will not be seduced or besmirched in the estimation of my friends by an unknown blackguard for political purposes. I shall hold the publisher of the libel signed "John Wright Williams" responsible therefor.

B. F. KEITH.

time he spends reading the Bible," said Mr. Empie.

Mr. Empie also said that prior to the beginning of the present campaign he had been approached by Mr. Harriss who suggested that he run for the House, assuring him that "We" would support him. This, said Mr. Empie, he declined. Later Mr. Harriss told him that "We" would support him for the Senate, and this also he declined. Still later, Mr. Empie said, Mr. Harriss made the suggestion that he run for Mr. Geo. L. Peschau's position, again assuring him of support.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to the enjoyment of the refreshments.

Before the Recorder.

Because he shot at Alonzo Gorham, colored, missing him, however, Julius Wilson, a negro who conduct a restaurant at Sixth and Brunswick streets, was fined $15 and the costs in the Recorder's court yesterday. Wilson said that Gorham assaulted him with a bottle and the latter then shot at him. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in the case against Gorham. The case against James Whiters, colored, charged with shooting at a negro named Sheridan several weeks ago, was continued as the wounded negro is still in the hospital, and his physician says that it will be some time before he can get out.

LEADER OF NEW YORK CROWD STILL IN JAIL.

Friends Cannot Raise $7,500 Bond Asked for by Court.

New York, March 5.—While Frank Tannenbaum, former waiter, and now leader of an army of the unemployed marching under the banner of the Industrial Workers of the World, was in a cell this afternoon waiting for some one to furnish him with $7,500 bail, his force, 190 strong, was lined up in the chief magistrate's court to answer charges of disorderly conduct. Tannenbaum is being tried on a charge of inciting to riot, a felony. He and the members of his marching party were arrested last night in St. Alphonsus Church on West Broadway, which they had invaded.

Only one of the men was arraigned before Magistrate Corrigan, and after a session that lasted all afternoon, it was announced that his case would be continued tomorrow. Justus Sheffield, an attorney employed for the prisoners by the I. W. W., intimated that in each case he would call all of the 189 defendants as witnesses, in addition to others. At this rate the cases may not be disposed of for at least a week. Meanwhile the "army" will be kept in several jails.

When Tannenbaum was arraigned on the charge of inciting to riot, the court, after the district attorney's argument of the importance of the case, raised the bond to $7,500.

The ertswhile waiter's friends said they would have to let him remain in jail for a time.

Tannenbaum, defiant, said the I. W. W., was behind every man arrested. He declared working hours in factories should be reduced to eight. The reason so many men were unemployed, he said, was because the factories were working their hands twelve to fourteen hours daily.

Atlanta, Ga., March 5.—W. S. West appointed United States Senator to succeed the late A. O. Bacon, received his commission from Governor Slaton here today and left for Washington. He expects to take his seat in the Senate tomorrow or Saturday.

Strong Protest From Farmers

TO THE BOARD OF ELECTIONS, J. S. McEACHERN, CHAIRMAN, CITY:

We, the undersigned voters of Cape Fear Township, have been advised that a member of the Board of Elections stated the reason why the voting place in this Township was changed from Wrightsboro to Castle Hayne was because Mr. Herbert Johnston, the former Registrar, was "Crooked;" and that the Board was unable to find competent and trustworthy men at Wrightsboro, who would hold a fair election,

We consider this charge slanderous, and a serious and unwarranted reflection upon Mr. Johnston and the entire citizenship of Wrightsboro. We resent this imputation and hereby protest against the action of the Board of Elections in changing the polling place from Wrightsboro to Castle Hayne, and demand that the hardship which has been imposed upon the taxpayers and voters of the Township be removed by re-naming Wrightsboro as the polling place for the Township, as it is centrally located and most convenient for all the voters.

INDEPENDENT CLUB MEETS

Large Attendance Last Night at Woolvin Hall—Speeches by the Organization's Candidates.

With an attendance estimated in the neighborhood of 700 and marked by enthusiasm on the part of all, the weekly meeting of the Independent Club was held in Woolvin Hall last night, at which time several of the candidates endorsed by the organization delivered speeches urging every member to vote the straight club ticket, and carry the slate to victory.

Secretary and Treasurer Wm. Struthers presided in the absence of President R. C. DeRosset and Vice President T. E. Wallace. The announcement was made that the club would hold rallies in different parts of the city during the short time remaining before the primary, and also that Woolvin Hall would be headquarters of the club next Wednesday night, to receive the election returns. It was announced that refreshments would be provided and that a band would furnish music during intervals. The members were also requested to be present at Woolvin Hall Tuesday night to receive marked tickets to be used at the polls the next day.

Louis Goodman, Esq., the club's candidate for the office of County Solicitor, made the first speech. Mr. Goodman particularly stressed the fact that only six more days remained before the primary, and he urged every man to make the most of the time remaining, to influence his friends to vote the club's ticket, and to be sure to see that all friends of the organization are registered.

Mr. P. W. Wells, chairman of the executive committee, followed Mr. Goodman and announced that the club had on foot plans for a permanent headquarters, which would include reading room, pool and billiard room, etc., in connection with a suitable hall for holding all meetings.

Woodus Kellum, Esq., whose candidacy for the Legislature has been endorsed by the club, spoke next. He referred to the fact that it has been said that he had the bill authorizing an election on bonds for municipal docks and wharves drawn and put through the Legislature in order that the Fidelity Trust & Development Co., may unload some property on the city. In answer to this he stated that the bill was drawn by Rountree & Carr and sent to him in 1911 by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, some seven months before the Fidelity Company was ever chartered and a considerably longer time before that company ever acquired the property in question.

The remainder of his speech was devoted to a review of the legislation which he has been instrumental in getting through the Legislature in the two sessions in which he has represented this county there. He was frequently applauded.

Brooke G. Empie, Esq., the club's candidate for Recorder, made a short speech in which he commented rather sarcastically upon a comment made by Mr. George Harriss in the advertising columns of local papers referring to Mr. Empie's campaign slogan, "Let Lawyers Interpret the Law." Mr. Harriss' answering squib on this was "Not All Who Hold License Are Lawyers," and to this he appended a Scriptural reference: "All those who know George Harriss know how much INTERESTED IN Y. W. C. A.

Miss Ada Starkweather, Field Secretary, Meets With Encouragement from Wilmington Citizens.

"I am glad to say that the representative business men as well as practically all the leading women of Wilmington are interested in the establishment of a Young Woman's Christian Association here, and I hope by the first of next week to have plans for the organization of a local branch completed," said Miss Ada Starkweather, city field secretary for the South Atlantic States, last night in answer to a question from a Star representative.

Miss Starkweather addressed the women of North Carolina Sorosis yesterday afternoon at their regular monthly meeting and all those present expressed themselves as being in favor of the organization of the association. On account of the inclement weather Miss Starkweather has been delayed somewhat in the formation of her plans but has, nevertheless, been working quietly for the last week in the city with a view to learning all that she can about the local situation before beginning the actual work of organization.

The men and women of the city with whom she has talked, Miss Starkweather states, with few exceptions, have expressed themselves as willing to support the enterprise with their money and also to lend their hearty co-operation in aiding in the work of organization.

Miss Starkweather talked very interestingly yesterday of the splendid progress that has been made in the other cities of the State. Particularly noticeable, she remarked, is the fine work that has been done in Charlotte.

"The dedicatory exercises for their new building," she continued, "will be held through the week beginning April 3rd. The association was organized eight years ago and they have heretofore occupied rented quarters. A little over a year ago a campaign for funds was carried through to a successful finish with the result that $110,000 was raised.

"A building containing dormitory facilities, gymnasium, library, reading room, cafe and many other attractive features has been erected and will prove to be one of the greatest assets of the enterprising city."

For a number of years Asheville has had a Y. W. C. A., one of the modern residences having been purchased, she stated, and this used as a place where young women could have a place of rest and recreation. However, this has proven to be entirely inadequate and it is now planned to erect a commodious Y. W. C. A. building on the site of the present structure.

Miss Starkweather will go from Wilmington to Winston-Salem the latter part of this month to aid in a campaign to raise $70,000 with which to erect a modern home for the Y. W. C. A. of that city. She will also in the near future be in Savannah, Ga., where it is proposed to secure $150,000 with which to build a Y. W. C. A.

Miss Starkweather is of the opinion that it is better to begin in a small way with moderate facilities and gradually build up instead of planning on too broad a basis at the start. She feels that the way is open for a most useful organization here [illegible] any of

OUT WITH REPUBLICANS

Democratic Club Goes on Record in Resolution—Mass Meeting Monday—Speaking Tonight.

Featured by the adoption of a resolution declaring it to be the sentiment of the organization that all offices now occupied by Republicans be promptly filled by Democrats, in so far as can be done under the existing laws, and calling upon the North Carolina delegation in Congress to work to this end, the last regular weekly meeting of the Democratic Club prior to the primary of next Wednesday, was held last night in the Odd Fellows' Hall.

Announcement was made at the meeting that W. P. Stacy, Esq., candidate for the Lower House, would speak at Front and Wright streets tonight at 8 o'clock, and a cordial invitation was extended to all voters to be present. It was also announced that a mass meeting would be held at the court house Monday night, at which time Mr. Stacy and others will speak.

Vice President D. J. Fergus presided over the meeting and Secretary D. H. Howes was at his post.

The following is the resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved: 1st, That it is the sense of this club that all offices now occupied by Republicans, and which can be filled by the appointment of Democrats without violation of existing laws, should be promptly filled by the appointment of Democrats.

"Resolved, 2nd, That we request our representatives in Congress to work for the appointment of Democrats selected by them to the end that they may receive their appointment as soon as possible."

Reports were received from the committees which have been assigned to the different wards and precincts and they were of an encouraging nature. Further plans for ward work for the closing days of the campaign were discussed and decided upon. Stress was laid upon the necessity for registering, and members were urged to see that their friends also register.

Following a general discussion of the work that has been accomplished, and the outlook for the success of the club's slate at the primary next week, of which the members voiced themselves as being confident of, the meeting adjourned.

MRS. B. H. COOPER DEAD.

Young Married Lady Died at James Walker Hospital Yesterday.

Mrs. Emma Cooper, wife of Mr. B. H. Cooper, who lives at No. 9 Bellwill alley, died yesterday at 12:10 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital after an illness of seven weeks. The body was sent to her former home at Greensboro on the 6:45 train last night, and the funeral and interment will take place there today.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Upton of Greensboro, and had only been married a little over three months. She was 26 years old. She is survived by five sisters and one brother, all of whom live in Greensboro. The bereaved husband will have the sympathy of many friends.

BOLIVIA CITIZEN DEAD.

Mr. J. P. Cox Passed Away at His Home There Yesterday Morning.

Mr. J. P. Cox, a well known and highly respected farmer of Bolivia, died at his home at that place yesterday morning at 2:30 o'clock. The funeral will be held this afternoon from the residence, and will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Carraway. The interment will be in the family burying ground in Bolivia.

He was 68 years old and was one of Brunswick's most useful citizens. He is survived by his wife and seven children. They will have the sincere sympathy of a host of friends in their great loss.

Young People Married.

Mr. J. L. Memory, Jr., and Miss Bessie Casteen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Casteen, were happily married Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the parsonage of Immanuel Presbyterian church, the officiating minister being Rev. J. S. Crowley. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few friends. The young couple will make their home at No. 1315 South Third street. They have many friends who extend to them hearty congratulations.

SUNDAY SCHOOL OUTINGS

Tidewater Will Give Children of City and County Churches Picnics at Beach in May.

Carrying out its annual custom, instituted some years ago, the Tidewater Power Company will during the month of May give every Sunday School in the city and county a picnic at Wrightsville Beach, carrying the schools down and back over its suburban line, and placing at the disposal of the children the many attractions offered by the popular resort.

These picnics are always memorable occasions to the Sunday School children and already they are looking forward to May, when the outings begin. The dates, arranged by Capt. W. F. Corbett, of the Tidewater, after conferences with the various superintendents of the Sunday Schools, are as follows:

SIX AUTOMOBILES BURNED IN GARAGE.

Cause of Fire at Burnett's Garage Yesterday Morning Unknown.

The cause of the fire in Burnett's garage yesterday morning shortly after 3 o'clock, which burned six automobiles and gutted the building so that it cannot be repaired, was not learned yesterday. Mr. Burnett had gone to a restaurant to get lunch, having just come in from a trip and Mr. Neal Walton had just gone in one of the taxis to answer a call.

Fortunately two taxis which had recently been purchased were both outside. Mr. Joe Starkey happened to be passing along when he saw the blaze and rolled a Chalmers car from the building. Mr. Burnett had about $4,000 in insurance and in addition to this considers that his loss is about $5,000.

The building is owned by Mr. J. T. Chapman, Jr., and Mrs. D. P. McLain, and is located at No 14 North Second street. It was uninsured. Damage to the structure is estimated at $2,000.

MALONE VS. PHILLIPS.

Interesting Exhibition of Billiards—Another Tonight.

After a very interesting exhibition of pocket billiards at the Crescent Cigar Co., last night, Malone, exchampion, conceded odds of 15 start in a 50-point match to Sam Phillips. Malone won by one point, 50 to 34. High runs: Malone, 31; Philips 15.

Mr. Malone will play two members of the Cape Fear Club in their quarters tonight. Malone will play balkline while the members will play unrestricted.

FOR STATE CHAIRMANSHIP

Colonel Pearsall Not a Candidate—Carr or McLean Most Likely to Succeed Webb.

That the name of Col. P. M. Pearsall, of Newbern, who has been mentioned as a possible successor to Chairman Chas. A. Webb, of the State Democratic Executive Committee, will not go before the meeting of the committee in Raleigh next Tuesday was definitely learned yesterday, on the publication of a card from Colonel Pearsall to the editor of the Raleigh News and Observer.

The decision of Colonel Pearsall not to allow his name to go before the committee as a candidate narrows the choice down, it is believed here, between J. O. Carr, Esq., of this city, whose friends are urging him for the State party leadership, and A. W. McLean, Esq., of Lumberton, who has also been prominently mentioned for the position. It is generally conceded that the chairmanship belongs to the east this time, and in either Mr. Carr or Mr. McLean the committee and the party would have a splendidly able leader.

Mr. Carr has protested that he did not start the movement which is urging his name as Chairman Webb's successor, and has declared that he is in favor of Mr. McLean. From the statement given out by him several days ago, it is understood that at first he was flatly prepared to deny his candidacy, but so many party leaders have urged that he reconsider, that it is now believed that, while in no sense an active candidate for the position, he will not decline it if it is offered him.

His long experience as one of the leaders of the Democratic party in the State, and in shaping the platform and the policies of the party at the various State conventions, coupled with his fine executive ability and natural aptitude for politics, combine to make him an ideal man for the position to which his friends believe he will be elected.

The further fact that he has been a strong supporter of North Carolina's Senators and the present Governor leads to the conclusion that they would all be glad to see him tendered the honor of the State leadership.

His friends here and elsewhere are looking forward to the meeting of the committee next Tuesday with the confidence that the popular Wilmingtonian will be Mr. Webb's successor.

Colonel Pearsall's card to the News and Observer is as follows:

"To the Editor:

"Several days ago your paper printed some kind and complimentary references to me for chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee to succeed Mr. Charles A. Webb. My home paper did likewise. Many of my friends have suggested and requested my appointment. All of these kind and partial expressions I greatly appreciate and desire to thank my friends and the press for them.

"I notice the names of others mentioned for the same place who are more worthy and better qualified. So I ask you to say, by publishing this, that I am in no sense a candidate, and that my name will not go before the committee for this position at its meeting next Tuesday evening, the 10th instant. Yours very truly,

"P. M. PEARSALL.

FRECKLES

February and March Bring Out Unsightly Spots—How to Remove Easily.

The woman with tender skin dreads February and March because they are likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how thick her veil, the sun and winds have a strong tendency to make her freckle.

Fortunately for her peace of mind the recent discovery of a new prescription, othine—double strength, makes it possible for even those most susceptible to freckles to keep their skin clear and white. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, the double strength othine should remove them.

Get an ounce from your druggist and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails.

New Spring Fashions in Gowns, Wraps and Suits for Street and Dress Wear

Charming Two-Piece Suits in All the Newest Materials and Shades.

Our very unusual success the past season with our lines of Suits for Street and Dress Wear at Moderate Prices, inspired us to bring together this season the strongest lines we have ever shown at the prices.

These Suits are indeed charming and made, as they are, under our own supervision, by the most noted men-tailors in New York, leave nothing to be desired in the way of style, material or finish.

It is to Your Interest to See These Suits, Before Making Your Selection.

ESPECIALLY CHARMING ARE THE

NEW SPRING SILKS

AND THE STYLES ARE MORE VARIED THAN USUAL.

Perhaps more about them will be interesting:

PRINTED SILKS are to be very popular—both for entire dresses and for use in combination with the solid colors, with crepe de chines, crepe meteors, crinkle crepes and poplins, following in the order named.

The Latest Color Tones

are the greens and the Oriental yellows, with blues and purples coming next.

THE GREEN SERIES runs all the way from a light reseda down to a dark myrtle shade.

THE YELLOW SERIES starts with a light mais or corn color, and go all the way down to a deep burnt orange; the tango and copper shades being in evidence in this series.

But this is NOT to be a "one" or a "two-color season." ALL COLORS ARE FASHIONABLE and you can choose your favorite shade and still be in style.

CELEBRATES HER 90TH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Burgaw, N. C., March 5.—The celebration of her 90th birthday anniversary Friday last by Mrs. E. A. Murphy, at her home here, was a most delightful occasion. She had with her all of her children but two, these being Dr. Walter C. Murphy, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Cornelia Ferrell, of Clinton. Those present were ex-Judge J. D. Murphy, of Asheville; Mrs. E. Mc Moore; Mrs. J. R. Bannerman, Mrs. M. M. Moore and Miss Maggie Murphy. In addition to her children there were several grandchildren and two great-grandchildren present.

After greeting Mrs. Murphy in the front parlor, the guests were ushered into the dining room where tea and salad were served, followed by delicious cream and cake. The dining room was beautifully decorated, the color scheme being pink and white, while soft lights from candles illuminated the room. Carnations and Killarney roses decorated the table.

Quite a large number of her friends called during the afternoon to pay their respects to the venerable lady and to wish her many more birthday anniversaries. Her friends will be glad to know that her general health is good.

PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING CELEBRATED LAST NIGHT.

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season was solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock at the Temple of Israel when Miss Helen Julia Solomon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Solomon, of this city, was given in marriage to Mr. Sydney N. Greenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Greenberg, of Hartford, Conn., Rev. Dr. S. Mendelsohn officiating.

The church was filled to its utmost capacity with the large number of guests who attended the wedding. The interior was beautifully decorated with palms, Southern smilax and flowers and these with the impressive background formed by the glow of many candles produced a most charming effect.

Prof. A. H. Yopp, organist of the Temple of Israel, prior to the hour of the ceremony skilfully rendered a number of enjoyable selections which were as follows: "Intermezzo," by Major; "Melody in F" by Rubenstein; "Andantino" by Lemare, and "To a Wild Rose," by MacDonald.

Promptly at the appointed hour to the strains of the familiar Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, the bridal party entered the church. First came the groomsmen, Messrs. M. Bluementhal, of Philadelphia; Hugh Hines, E. C. Hines, Harry Solomon, Arthur Bluethenthal and Herbert Bluethenthal.

Then came the bridesmaids in pairs, the first being Mrs. Jos. Bluementhal and Miss Deborah Shrier, dressed in deep rose crepe de chine and carrying baskets of deep pink sweet peas. They were followed by Miss Helena Maxman and Miss Ethel Solomon, dressed in medium rose crepe de chine and carrying baskets of sweet peas of the same color. Then came Misses Helen Greenberg, of Hartford, Conn., and Miss Catherine Wallerstein, of Richmond, Va., dressed in light rose crepe de chine and carrying baskets of sweet peas to match.

Miss Lillian Solomon, maid of honor, came next. She was gowned in flowered chiffon over pink and carried a shower ocuquet of sweet peas and lilies. She was followed by the little flower girl, Miss Caroline Bear, dressed in lingerie over pink, who strewed sweet peas along the aisle.

Following came the bride on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She looked most charming in a lovely gown of white satin trimmed with net exquisitely beaded in pearls and wore a Vernon-Castle cap of net caught by a diamond brooch, a gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. John Scoville, of Hartford, Conn., who entered from the left of the chancel. Following the impressive ceremony the bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was given at the Harmony Circle Club in honor of the bride and groom, which was attended by the bridal party and many friends. After the reception there was a supper and dance. It was a most enjoyable affair and it was a late hour when the guests departed for their homes. The supper was catered by Mrs. Rankin.

The bride and groom will leave on the 5 o'clock Seaboard train this morning for the western part of the State, where they will spend their honeymoon. The groom has resided in Wilmington for some time and has a host of friends in the city. The bride is a young lady of most pleasing personality and is very popular. The young couple will have the best wishes of a large circle of friends not only in the city, but elsewhere.

The out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Greenberg, Misses Estelle and Helen Greenberg, and Mr. John Scoville, all of Hartford, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Blumenthal, Mr. M. Blumenthal and Miss Marguerite Solomon, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lyon, of Cincinnati, and Miss Catherine Wallerstein, of Richmond.

In honor of the bridal party and the out-of-town guests, an enjoyable reception was given Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Solomon, No. 701 Market street. Another pre-nuptial event was a dance given at Harmony Circle Tuesday evening.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF SOROSIS YESTERDAY.

One of the most enthusiastic and largely attended meetings of North Carolina Sorosis for several months, was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the club rooms of the Masonic Temple. Besides the large number of members present the club had three guests of honor, these being Mrs. T. W. Lingle, of Davidson, chairman of Civics of the State Federation; Mrs. L. J. Ingram, of Wadesboro, chairman of Conservation of the same organization, and Miss Ada Starkweather, city field secretary of the South Atlantic States of the Y. W. C. A.

All three of these well known women made short addresses, Mrs. Lingle speaking first. She called attention in a most interesting way to the different ways in which the women are responsible for the civic conditions generally and how they can help in bettering them.

It is not necessary for a woman to be a suffragette, she declared, in order to be interested in this important subject. Any woman who is interested in her children's welfare and in those of other people can readily see the need of medical inspection in the school, the protection of foods and the need of improving other conditions. The women, she said, spend four-fifths of the money, then why shouldn't they be interested in what becomes of it?

Mrs. L. J. Ingram spoke on conservation and only made a short talk. She has for years taken a prominent interest in club work and the betterment of conditions generally.

Following these two splendid addresses Miss Starkweather talked briefly of what she hoped to accomplish in the way of organizing a Y. W. C. A. She was heard with great interest and those present expressed themselves as being heartily in accord with the proposition to organize a local branch here.

Following the addresses by these women the regular business session was held. It was arranged to have Miss Sarah Peck Hines, an eloquutionist of real talent, who lives in the city, to give an entertainment shortly under the auspices of Sorosis, the proceeds of which are to go towards the purchase of a refrigerator for the Domestic Science Department of the High School.

It was announced that the Civic Department of Sorosis has joined the American Civic Association and will henceforth receive all the literature published by this organization. This will be distributed where it is most needed.

It was also announced that this department has purchased two lawn mowers which will be rented to those who have no mower but nevertheless want to have their lawns mowed occasionally. To those who have neither means to purchase a mower nor the money to rent one the mowers will be furnished absolutely free of charge. With this generous proposition it was the opinion of the ladies that there would be no necessity for any lawn in the city to go unmowed this spring.

A letter was received from Miss VanBuren, of Washington, D. C., who has charge of the Junior Civic League work, stating that she would visit this State soon, and would like to come to Wilmington. She will give an illustrated lecture. It was decided to invite her to come to Wilmington.

It was also reported that Sorosis has become a member of the Social Service Conference of the State, which was recently organized, and will henceforth receive all the literature published under its direction.

A communication was read asking that Sorosis use its influence to secure a more rigid enforcement of the pure food law regulating the use of weights and measures.

Delegates to the National biennial meeting of the Woman's Federation which will be held in Chicago, Ill., soon were elected as follows: Mrs. M. L. Stover and Mrs. E. L. Prince with Miss Margaret Gibson and Mrs. J. T. King as alternates.

Delegates to the annual meeting of the North Carolina Woman's Federation, which will be held in May in Fayetteville were elected as follows: Mrs. L. B. Sasser, Mrs. W. G. Whitehead and Mrs. R. W. Hicks, with Miss Della Cline, Mrs. W. E. Ethridge and Mrs. Richard Price as alternates. Mrs. Stover, the president of Sorosis, being a State officer, was entitled to appoint a personal representative and she appointed Mrs. Robert Ruark.

At the close of the business session delicious refreshments were served by the ladies of the Civic Department, who were the hostesses for the afternoon.

..Theatrical..

Headed by a most wonderful film of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle, America's foremost exponents of all the latest dances, including the hesitation and the tango, as an extra feature, the Victoria Theatre opened its mid-week change of show and people yesterday. In addition to this big feature is offered the regular vaudeville programme, usual photoplays and superb numbers by Professor Brown's crack Victoria orchestra. Expectancy had been sharpened to such a fine degree that yesterday in spite of the very inclement weather, crowds assembled at the attractive, comfortable Victoria and greeted the new show with enthusiasm, and praised the enterprise of the Victoria management that made possible presentation of the film of the Castles. The film is of such splendid execution that it is just like beholding living people do the dance, especially as there is full orchestral accompaniments. The regular vaudeville bill is alive with big acts. One of the cleverest of all comediennes on the stage, dainty, charming Dolly Marshall, who looks like a fac simile of Mary Pickford, is one of the stars, in songs and dances, while another is Francis Dugan, the noted eccentric violinist, and, by the way, Mr. Dugan is a native North Carolinian, being a member of a prominent Winston-Salem family. The well known sketch team of McGarth and Yoeman also is starring and presenting a rousing playlet, "The Lunatic and the Actress." Then there is a trio, adding to the importance and tremendousness of the bill. It is a sketch trio headed by the well known minstrel man, Kelly Subers, and they appear in a most mirth-provoking comedy, "A Trip to Alaska."

At the Bijou Today.

Today's Bijou menu will be headed by one of the biggest pictures ever condensed into two reels of motion photography, a story that will hold the attention of everyone from the first flash to the final, and one in which some of the biggest photoplay actors on the stage have put their greatest efforts.

"False News" is the title of this big offering, and when we tell you that it is on the Universal program you will know th expect something unusually good. Some magnificent scenery adds greatly to this superb offering, one that will highly please everybody.

"Mrs. Pinkhurst's Proxy" a big comedy offering, will follow, being a Western town story. A lady speaker, scheduled to address a woman's club, is detained, unknown to the ladies. A tramp learns this and disguises himself to fill the engagement. The complications ensuing furnish some of the most comical incidents ever shown on the screen.

"The Joy Riders," is another topliner in the comedy class, depicting the escapades of two tramps who steal an auto and go for a joy ride. They have the joy, but at the ending it is tragical for them, while the audience will roar with laughter throughout. Bijou comfort on a day like yesterday is worth paying for, but it doesn't cost you a penny.

At the Grand Today.

While gloom hung over the city yesterday, so far as the weather was concerned, all was brigtness and cheer inside the delightful Grand theatre. There crowds gathered, in spite of the scowling elements, and found a big show and solid comfort. The offering that will be made today will be headed by a super, Kalem two-part special release, "Perils of the White Lights." It is the story of a young girl who strays from the path of life and falls among human vultures. It is thrilling, but thoroughly wholesome, having been pronounced by the Board of Censors one of the best of all films, and, it is well to note, that the Grand presents only films that are approved by this National organization, working for the uplift of the stage.

Selig also has a powerful dramatic offering for today in "Conscience and the Temptress." It is the story of a young business man's infatuation for a burlesque actress. The adventuress tries to ruin him and gain money for herself, but her better self comes to the front at the story an old mother tells.

A merry comedy creation, the latest from the Vitagraph Company, is also a star today. It is "Timing Cupid" and its a laugh all the way through. Add to the films the Wurlitzer Orchestra and the delightful comforts of the Grand and this theatre is certainly an alluring spot these days.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Henry Owens, colored, was arrested yesterday morning by Policeman Leon George on a charge of vagrancy. He was lodged in the cit prison to await a hearing before the Recorder this morning.

—Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Peter Whitley to Josephine Whitley, for $1 and other considerations, lot on Wood, 33 feet north of Green street, 33x70 feet in size; R. G. Grady and Mrs. Mary M. Corbett, for $100 and other considerations, lot on Nixon's alley, 122 1-2 feet from Nixon street, 42 1-2x66 feet in size.

Can't Help But Admire Babies

Every Woman Casts Loving Glance at the Nestling Cuddled in its Bonnet.

A woman's heart naturally responds to the charm and sweetness of a pretty child, and more so to-day than ever before since the advent of Mother's Friend.

This is a most wonderful external help to the muscles and tendons. It penetrates the tissues, makes them pliant to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion, so there is no longer a period of pain, discomfort, straining, nausea or other symptoms so often distressing during the anxious weeks of expectancy.

Mother's Friend prepares the system for the coming event, and its use brings comfort, rest and repose during the term. This has a most marked influence upon the baby, since it thus inherits a splendid growing system of nerves and digestive function.

And particularly to young mothers is this famous remedy of inestimable value. It enables her to preserve her health and strength, and she remains a pretty mother by having avoided all the suffering and danger that would otherwise accompany such an occasion. Mother's Friend thoroughly lubricates every nerve, tendon and muscle involved and is a sure preventive for caking of the breasts.

You will find this splendid remedy on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, and is highly recommended for the purpose. Write Bradfield Regulator Co., 134 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and they will mail you sealed, a very instructive book for expectant mothers.

STEADIER TONE IN COTTON

Continued Through Yesterday's Session of the Market—Demand Was Not General.

New York, Mar. 5. — The steadier tone which developed in the cotton market yesterday was in evidence again during today's trading. Demand was not general, but there appeared to be few sellers around the ring and prices worked higher on firmer cables, favorable India trade advices, reports of a steady spot situation and predictions of rather bullish week-end figures tomorrow. The close was steady, net unchanged to eight points higher, active months being generally 4 to 8 points above yesterday's close. March and May were relatively firm, March holding a premium over May of about 44 points, while May sold two points above July.

The market was relatively active during the early trading. Liverpool attributed firmness there to good trade demand, and continental buying of new crop months. Houses with English connections were buyers here at the opening advance of four to eight points and the market sold about 7 to 9 points net higher during early trading. Prices eased somewhat around noon, but the market showed a generally steady tone and closed within a point or two of the best.

Spot cotton, quiet. Middling uplands, 13.00; do. gulf, 13.25. No sales.

Futures closed steady.

COAST LINE BONDS.

A. C. L. to Make New Issue on Satisfactory Interest Basis.

Baltimore, Mar. 5.—The Sun in its stock market news of today says:

The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad has been the first to publicly announce that it is unable to do financing at present under the only open mortgage it has because the interest rate for bonds of that mortgage is limited to 4 per cent. It has called a special meeting of stockholders to authorize a new mortgage under which rates of interest on successive issues can be fixed by the directors.

Its present $200,000,000 unified mortgage, under which only $9,667,000 bonds are outstanding, and approximately $15,700,000 are in the company's treasury, is to be closed and no more bonds issued.

The first public offerings of the unified 4s was made in 1911, at 93, when $3,000,000 were sold by bankers. In March, 1913, $3,500,000 more were offered at 87. The nominal market for the bonds is now about 86 to 87. To sell more of them at present the road would have to write off 15 or more points discount, as the interest rate cannot be raised.

This condition, the company says, may continue or may recur from time to time, and it is, therefore, desirable to issue no more bonds under the unified mortgage, but to close that mortgage, limiting the issue under it to bonds outstanding.

It is said a new mortgage issue will be authorized, also for $200,000,000, the same as the unified mortgage, and enough bonds will be reserved under it to retire all underlying bonds, including the outstanding unified 4s. That will take about $105,000,000 of the total issue, leaving $95,000,000 to be available for improvements additions and betterments.

BAN ON FOREIGN BEGGARS.

Newbern Will Be "From Missouri" Hereafter.

Newbern, N. C., March 5.—Hereafter itinerant foreign beggars who come to Newbern soliciting aid for, presumably, some church or charitable institution, will be compelled to furnish bona fide proof that they are what they represent to be, and failing to do this they will spend a while in Craven county's jail.

During the past few weeks two Turks came to this city and solicited aid for an institution in their native land. They succeeded in getting quite a neat sum of money and it was then discovered that they were nothing but fakers. In the meantime the Turks had smelled a rate and when the authorities began a search for them they were not to be found. In the future steps to protect the people will be taken before these people are allowed to solicit funds.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's.

The only Standard Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. Drives out Malaria, enriches Blood. Builds up the Whole System. 50c.

GENERAL LOSSES IN STOCKS

Chiefly Among the Railroad Stocks—Market Made Small Advance in Early Opening.

New York, Mar. 5.—Closing quotations today showed general losses which were largest among railroad stocks. The market made a small advance in early trading. Steel stocks, yesterday's strong points, were again favorites. While buying appeared to be largely in the nature of short covering, there were evidences of increased speculative long dealings.

A severe break in C. and O. effectively checked the movement. Announcement of a $33,000,000 issue of 5 per cent. notes caused the stock to sell off 2 points at today's opening. Later it became known that terms of the issue provided that $17,000,000 should be set aside out of earnings during the next five years for improvements these expenditures to be made before dividends were paid. As Chesapeake and Ohio's surplus for the last fiscal year, after payment of dividends, was only $139,000, it was thought this new obligation impaired the prospect of continued dividend payments, and the stock sold off abruptly. It fell to 70¾, a loss of nearly 6 points, and closed with only a fractional recovery. The decline depressed the general railroad list considerably.

Copper shares were heavy on less favorable trade reports.

Bonds, irregular. Some issues yielded sharply. Total sales, par value, $2,685,000.

United States coupon fours advanced ½ on call. Total sales were 330,500, including American Tobacco, 400; C. and O., 76,000; Lehigh Valley, 1,200; L. and N., 900; N. and W., 900; Reading, 27,300; S. WILSON'S REQUEST WILL BE GRANTED by Senator Root, of New York.

Senator Chilton, discussing his amendment to indirectly accomplish the repeal, said it was his own idea of a way out of the difficulty. The President had not been consulted with relation to it, he said. Some Senators were inclined to the belief that the Chilton amendment would leave Congress open to the charge that it had attempted to dodge the issue. Senator Root asserted that the result would be the same as a flat repeal and that Congress might better act by direct repeal.

Underwood Makes No Comment.

Some of the leaders in Congress, including Majority Leader Underwood, of the House, who oppose the repeal, had no comment to make.

New York Senators and Congressmen praised the message. Others indicated that they would support the repeal, though they did not agree with the President's position.

"I voted for toll exemption," said Senator Kern, Democratic leader in the Senate. "If I vote for the repeal, it will not be because I have changed my views. I do not believe that tolls exemption violates the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. If I support the President's request, I will do so because of his desire for Congress to support his foreign policy, and for the further reason that in questions of this kind, where there is any doubt as to interpretation of treaties, the foreigner should be given the benefit of the doubt."

Has Majority in the House.

Representative Evans, of Montana, a Republican member of the committee, telegraphed yesterday to be recorded in favor of the repeal bill at the committee meeting tomorrow.

Representative Palmer, of Pennsylvania, announced that a poll of the House conclusively demonstrated that there are more than enough votes in the House to sustain the President's appeal.

Representative Knowland, of California, Republican, issued a statement declaring that "because of the failure of a foreign policy, and to please nations that are our commercial rivals, the government's policy must be reversed, Congress turn a somersault and this country be humiliated in the eyes of the world." He added that in a speech during the pre-election campaign the President had said, referring to the Baltimore free tolls plank, "Our platform is not molasses to catch flies; it means business; men who talk one way and vote another will be retired from public life."

Crowds Hear Address.

The House chamber and galleries were packed to hear the President read his address. The French and German ambassadors and other members of the diplomatic corps were in spaces reserved for them. No official of the British embassy was present. The Misses Wilson had places in the executive gallery and Mrs. Wilson for the first time was absent. She has not yet recovered from the shock of a fall in the White House several days ago. President Wilson reached the Capitol ten minutes before the time for the reading and waited in Speaker Clark's room until 12:30 o'clock when he was escorted into the chamber and promptly began reading his brief address as soon as a burst of applause had ceased.

Brevity Surprises.

Mr. Wilson's message was so brief that he had finished reading almost before the surprised galleries realized he had begun. It took less than five minutes and as another burst of applause greeted its close, Mr. Wilson hurried out of the chamber and went back to the White House. The joint session dissolved at once and the two Houses resumed their work.

Not a sound had interrupted the President as he read his message and as he finished the assemblage was all smiles, the demonstration being regarded as a tribute to his first year in office and the first year of Democratic supremacy in the government.

Within ten minutes after the President had addressed Congress Senator Chilton, Democrat, of the Canal committee, introduced a bill authorizing the President to suspend tolls. As soon as the President left the House, Speaker Clark ordered the message referred to the House committee on Inter-State and Foreign Commerce.

DAY IN CONGRESS.

Doings of Our National Legislators in Brief.

Washington, D. C., March 5.—

Senate:

Met at noon and joined the House to hear President Wilson read his address advocating repeal of the Panama tolls exemption.

Public Health Committee was urged to recommend appropriation of $500,000 for Federal fight on malaria and typhoid.

Senator Chilton introduced a bill to empower the President to suspend Panama toll charges.

Suffrage constitutional amendment discussed.

BRYAN DISCUSSED MEXICAN SITUATION

fusal to allow Don Luis to leave Mexico after the money is paid.

General Terrazas, in replying to Villa, made payment of the money contingent on his son being brought to the center of the international bridge here, while the sum was changing hands.

This Villa flatly declined to do. General Terrazas regards any other arrangements as folly.

Villa's messenger to General Terrazas said the money must be paid within five days or Don Luis will be killed. The five days will expire tomorrow, but it is thought by refugees that Villa's desire for the money, despite his enmity towards the Terrazas family, will persuade him to delay extreme measures pending further negotitations which were suggested to him in telegrams today.

The investigation of the Benton and Bauch cases begun at Juarez today by a commission of three Mexicans appointed by General Carranzas, excited no interest on this side of the river.

A member of the Anglo-American Commission appointed for the same purpose, but whose efforts were frustrated by the rebels, said tonight that this commission doubtless would disband, although Charles A. C. Perceval, of the British consular service and a member of the commission, is still here.

The same member said that Perceval's investigation thus far has elicited no evidence not previously made public in the newspapers.

The commission appointed by Carranza will endeavor to ascertain whether the arrest and conviction of Benton was made according to due form of law and justice. It is not expected that an examination will be made of the Briton's body.

An attempt also will be made to learn whether Bauch was executed or is still alive.

FOUR TIMES IN FOUR DAYS.

Former Banker Holds Record for Being Daily Arrested.

Chicago, March 5.—John W. Worthington, head of the "defunct American Banking Association" was arrested tonight for the fourth time in as many days. As the banker stepped from the detective bureau, where he obtained release on a $5,000 bond, he was served with a Federal warrant charging him with using the mails to defraud.

The warrant was identical with the one served on Marry H. Thomas, said to have been associated with him. It is alleged that in 1911 the two represented themselves as brokers and obtained $5,000 worth of stock and $2,000 in certificates of deposit from the Central Savings Bank, at Waterloo Ia. The stock and certificates have disappeared, it is charged. Thomas was released on bonds.

A receiver was appointed today for the banking association and attorneys for the creditors estimated Worthington's assets at $600,000. They could not say what the liabilities were.

Assistant District Attorney Stansbury said he would endeavor to have dropped the charges against Worthington in the State courts so that the government's prosecution would not be hampered.

WARREN STOCK ADVANCING.

Newbern Man Seems to be Favorite in Raleigh for Chairmanship.

Raleigh, N. C., March 5.—With the definite announcement on the part of Col. P. M. Pearsall that he will not be a candidate for the chairmanship of the State Democratic Executive Committee and that his name will not in fact, be presented to the executive committee when that body meets here next Tuesday to select a chairman to succed Chas. A. Webb, the impression is growing here that the chairmanship will go to Mr. Warren, of Newbern, who, it is known will accept.

Mr. A. W. McLean, of Lumberton, is avowedly unwilling to serve unless it can be shown that there is some peculiar reason why he can serve to the best advantage. The impression is increasingly general here that Mr. Warren will be the next chairman.

SAILOR KILLED BY COMBER.

Six Others Hurt When Comber Broke Over British Freighter.

Boston, Mass., March 5.—One sailor was killed and six others were seriously injured by a comber that broke over the British freight steamer Cotswold Range, which arrived today from Rotterdam. The accident happened in a gale February 6th when the men were trying to secure the covering of a hatch. Another arrived today, the steamer Indianola, from Hamburg, reported trouble from the same storm. Four life boats, all the ship carried, were splintered, deck fittings were wrecked and a quantity of freight was washed overboard.

FOR FARM LIFE SCHOOL.

Jackson County Will Hold Election on Bond Issue.

Raleigh, N. C., March 5.—There came today to the State Department of Education a telegram from Jackson county to the effect that the county commissioners have just ordered an election on bonds and special tax for the establishment of farm life schools for the county. Dr. Joyner had just returned from Jackson where he urged the commissioners to take this step. He was especially gratified today to receive the news that his pleading had not ben in vain.

WAGNER SIGNS CONTRACT.

Fifteenth Time for Hans With the Pirate Team—Totals 18 in All.

Pittsburg, March 5.—John P. "Hans" Wagner, veteran shortstop of the Pittsburg National League club, today brought his signed contract to Pirate headquarters. He is the last Pirate to sign except Hendrix and Simon, who are reported to have signed with the Federal League. It was Wagner's 15th contract with Pittsburg and his 18th in organized baseball. The Pirates will leave for Dawson Sprinks, Ky., Saturday to begin spring training.

BANDIT ROBBED SOUTHERN TRAIN AT COLUMBIA.

Secured Several Sacks of Registered Mail—Escaped in City Limits.

Columbia, S. C., March 5.—A bandit tonight robbed the mail car of Southern Railway train No. 11, Charleston to Columbia just as the train reached Columbia. The robber entered the car as the train slowed up at the city limits and covering the mail clerk with a revolver, the bandit secured several sacks containing registered mail and jumped off the train. No arrests have been made.

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, March 5.—Brazilian government authorities today proclaimed a state of seige in the cities of Dio Janeiro, Nichteroy and Petropolis. This is to remain in force until March 31st. The government's action is taken as a preventative measure against any possible troubles.

it, as he believed the United States was becoming the "international spawning ground of revolutions."

Senator Works, of California, will address the Senate tomorrow on the Mexican situation while Senator Fall, of New Mexico, will discuss the subject Saturday.

Secretary Bryan appeared before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs and answered questions about conditions in Mexico. Afterward some of the members of the committee said he made a favorable impression, and that resolutions calling for information would not be necessary. Representative Ainey, Republican, of Pennsylvania, however, who has a resolution pending calling for information on the Mexican situation, issued a statement declaring that the House was entitled to receive the facts and that they should be made public.

President Wilson told callers today that he did not think General Carranza intended to offend the United States government by denying information to the United States government about Benton.

Announces Commission.

Robert V. Pesqueira, confidential agent here of the Constitutionalists, issued a statement tonight based on dispatches he had received from General Carranza, confirming the report of the appointing of a commission to investigate not only the death of Benton, but also the disappearance of Bauch.

"General Carranza and his advisers," said the statement, "entertain the opinion that Benton, having met death in Mexican territory, the initiative in ascertaining the real facts, in order to fix responsibility should be taken by the Constitutionaliss authorities, since they are in de facto control of the State of Chihuahua. Luis Cabrera, formerly a member of Congress, has been selected by General Carranza as his special representative in the matter and will assist and advise the commission.

"General Carranza hopes that the public will suspend judgment in respect to the Benton case until such time as he may have opportunity to make public the report of the commission, which will contain every detail of the affair obtainable, and in case the facts disclose any liability on the part of the Constitutionalist government, the latter will immediately proceed to give such satisfaction and make such reparation as is properly required under the laws of nations. In fact, General Carranza desires to have nothing concealed and will meet the issue in a spirit of absolute frankness and fairness although he does not believe that foreign governments should press for an independent investigation at this time."

Nothing Regarding Vergara.

There was no information at the State Department concerning the reported murder of Clemente Vergara. No comment was made on the efforts of Governor Colquitt, of Texas, to obtain the extradition of the offenders.

General Bliss telegraphed the War Department as follows:

"Press dispatches yesterday state that Texas State authorities have informed Secretary of State in Washington that Federal aid is needed to prevent Mexican marauders from crossing to our side and stealing cattle, etc.

"I at once called for report from every district commander on the border. Complete reports just received show no present ground for apprehension. Report by mail."

Though General Huerta has promised a full explanation of the reported killing of Clemente Vergara, an American citizen, nothing of a satisfactory nature has as yet been received by the State Department.

News of Naval Battle.

Washington, March 5.—The battle of Topolobampo harbor between the gun boat Tampico, the crew of which mutinied and went over to the Constitutionalists, and the Federal gun boats Guerrero and Morelos, which endeavored to recover possession of the deserter ship, resulted in the retirement of the Federal gun boats, according to advices to the State Department today.

Reply to Requisition.

Austin, Texas, March 5.—Replying to Texas' inquiry about requisition for the kidnappers of Clemente Vergara, an American citizen, General Joaquin Maas, Federal general commanding, reported today that he has ordered the arrest of the "persons named." His telegram did not say whether, if apprehended they would be surrendered to Texas.

General Maas signed his telegram as Governor General of the State of Coahuila sending the message from Saltillo. It read:

"Referring to your telegram of the third, I have already ordered the arrest of the individuals named. I will advise you of the results."

Governor Colquitt did not send a formal requisition but inquired whether Texas' requisition would be honored. The individuals he named were Apolonio Rodriguez, reputed to be a Federal captain, and three men said to have been under his command, who were charged with stealing Vergara's horses from an island in the Rio Grande, claimed to be on the American side of the line. As Vergara's reported death occurred on the Mexican side the only charge on which requisition could be based was horse theft.

NEW TOBACCO WAREHOUSE.

And More Than 100 New Barns Around Warsaw.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., March 5.—Work has begun on the new tobacco warehouse to be erected by Mr. F. L. Faison, of this city. The building will be 100 feet front by 200 feet deep, and will contain every convenience for the farmer and buyer, and will be erected at a cost of $5,000. This house will be managed by the well known firm of Abbott & Tuggle, of Danville, Va.

The wintry weather this section has experienced lately has done considerable damage to the young tobacco plants, but the farmers are replanting, and it is now thought that even more of the leaf will be grown this year than was at first planned. Already more than 100 new barns have been built around here.

Along with the building of many new residences, warehouses and other improvements in this town, comes the gratifying news that the depot here is to be remodeled and enlarged. A new passenger depot will be built on the site just south of the present location, and new umbrella sheds will be erected along the tracks.

Messrs. Ricks & Herring have moved their furniture store into the Hotel Thomas building.

Messrs. J. W. Hill and J. P. Wilson have opened a feed and grain store in the building formerly occupied by the Warsaw Furniture Co.

and told them not to sign until they had heard from him.

"They will be crazy if they didn't accept what we are willing to give them," said the Federal chief.

During the day President Gilmore arranged a deal by which Edward W. Gwinner, a Pittsburgh capitalist, took over the majority holdings of the Pittsburgh Federals. Gilmore also declared that within the last two days men with money in plenty at their command had taken over the Buffalo club.

President Ban Johnson today said he deplored the meeting held between Gilmore and the two National League presidents.

Johnson said he is not here to talk peace to the Federal League, but to welcome the tourists.

"We will fight these people to the bitter end," said Johnson. "They have nothing but a bunch of sand lotters. The whole thing is a joke."

Gilmore said he could not believe Johnson had made such a statement. "If he wants war we will give it to him," said the Federal League head, "and the fireworks will start before the Fourth of July. If Killifer does not report to the Chicago Federals in Chicago on Sunday there will be some fun."

WATER POWER LEGISLATION.

Is Put Forth as Relief for People of South and West by Jones.

Washington, March 5.—Water power legislation, as a measure of relief for the people of the South and West, was urged today by Senator Jones, who spoke in favor of his bill granting water power sites on the public domain to municipalities or public service corporations, under State or Federal regulations, with the power of the government to purchase after 50 years. His bill would require the operators to pay the United States annually 5 per cent of the fair market value of the lands occupied.

Senator Jones declared the most pressing use which this undeveloped water power could be put were the manufacture of nitrogen from the air as a basis of agricultural fertilizer and the pumping of water for irrigation purposes on the arid lands of the West.
